

Exclusive group visits to Bonnie Prince Charlie and the Jacobites

23 June–12 November 2017

Bonnie Prince Charlie and the Jacobites is a major new exhibition showing at the National Museum of Scotland in Edinburgh. Drawing on a rich wealth of material, the exhibition tells a compelling story of love, loss, exile, rebellion and retribution, and challenges many of the misconceptions that still surround the Jacobite legacy.

The story of Bonnie Prince Charlie and the Jacobite cause has an enduring fascination and now renewed global interest due to the hugely popular Outlander books and television series. This exhibition presents visitors with a rich and dramatic re-telling of a turbulent period in Scottish history – a must for visitors looking to learn more about Scotland's past.

We have two options for group visits to the exhibition, both providing the perfect start to a 'Jacobite' tour of Scotland.

How to book

Tel: +44 131 247 4352

Email: tours@nms.ac.uk

Option 1: Pre-opening exclusive guided tour

Timing: 09:00–10:00

Arrive at 09:00 (museum opens to the public at 10:00) for an exclusive guided tour of the exhibition given by one of our museum experts.

Price: £15 per person

Includes:

Exhibition ticket
Expert guided visit in English
Free entry for your own guide/interpreter

Option 2: Pre-opening exclusive group visit and curator talk

Timing: 09:00–11:00

09:00: Pre-opening exclusive access to the exhibition (museum opens to the public at 10:00)

10:00: Breakfast (croissants and tea/coffee)

10:30: Curator talk in English (free entry for your own guide/interpreter)

11:00: Ends, and time to discover the rest of the National Museum of Scotland at leisure

Price: £25 per person

Includes:

Exhibition ticket
Tea/coffee and croissant
Curator talk in English
Free entry for your own guide/interpreter

NB: This package is not available 1–31 August 2017; please choose Option 1

Group numbers

Minimum of 10 people per group (smaller numbers by request).

For Option 1: Pre-opening exclusive guided tour, maximum of 20 people per group.

For larger groups we recommend Option 2: Pre-opening exclusive group visit and curator talk.

Coach parking

Coaches can drop groups off outside the museum. Metered parking for coaches is available nearby on Johnston Terrace, the same as for Edinburgh Castle.

Terms and conditions

All rates are net rates.

Pre-booking is essential and bookings are subject to availability.

Cancellation – please give at least 48 hours (two working days) notice of cancellation.