

Welcome back

To help you explore the museum and make new discoveries, we have created three trails that give a fresh perspective on the collections.

Family puzzle trail – meet some old friends and discover other exciting exhibits. Download the trail at home nms.ac.uk/familypuzzletrail or pick up a printed trail at the museum.

Reset trail – a chance to reflect and rediscover. Visit nms.ac.uk/reset on your phone and enjoy a mindful museum experience.

Staff picks trail – we've chosen some of our favourite objects to share with you. Visit nms.ac.uk/staffpicks on your phone and discover what museum staff have been missing too.

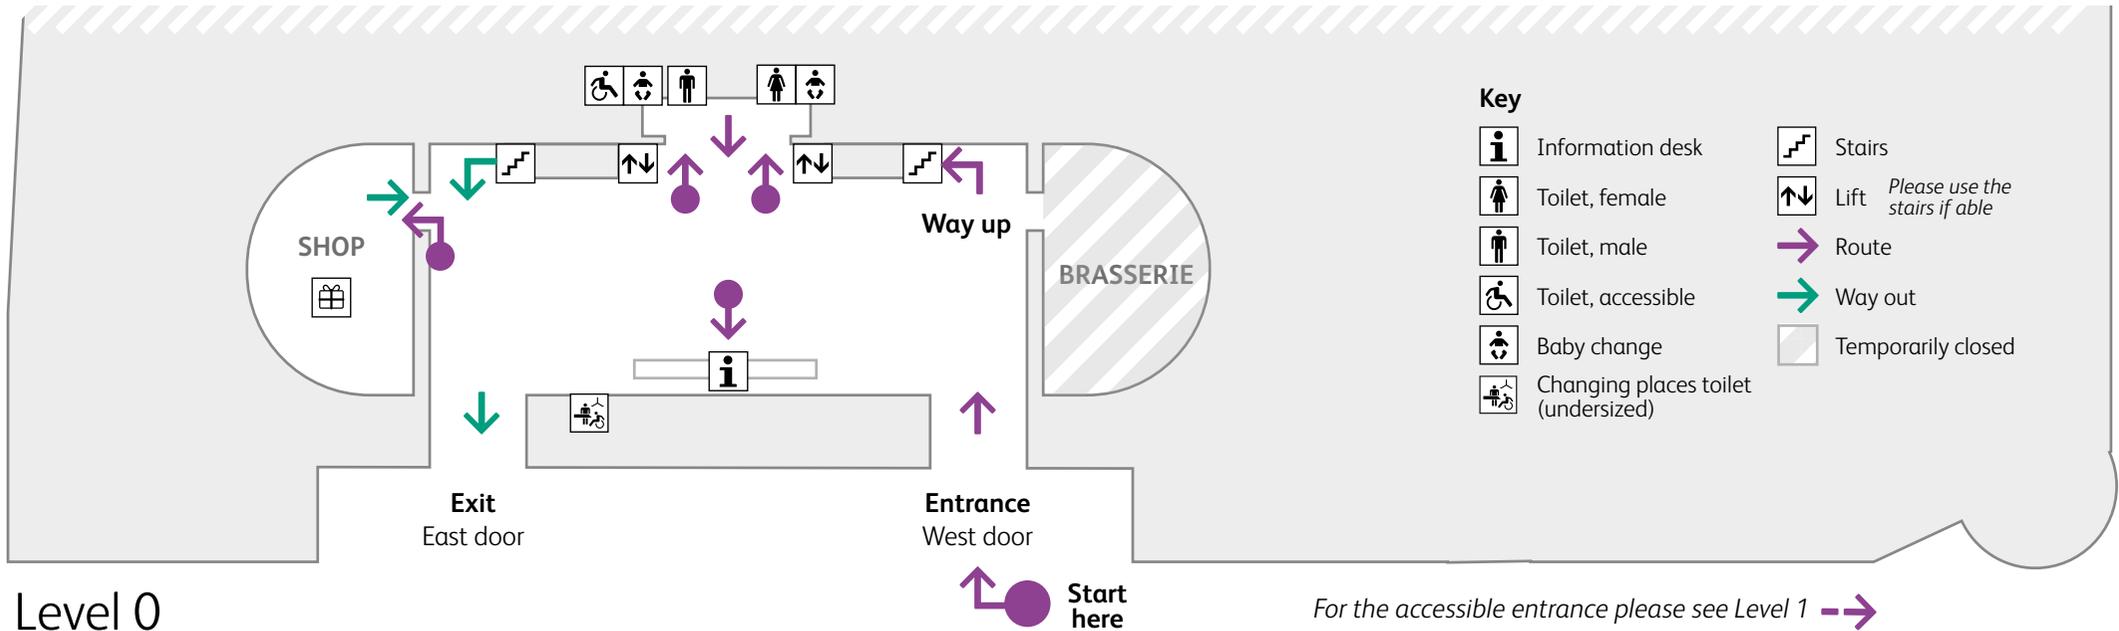

We've made some changes to make your visit safe and enjoyable. Please use this map and read our on-site signage carefully to help you during your visit.

We want you to have a safe visit:

- Please keep your distance from others (2m)
- Use the hand sanitisers provided
- Wash your hands often
- Follow the directional signage
- Face coverings must be worn by visitors over 5 years old
- Please use the stairs if you are able, to keep the lifts free for visitors with buggies or access needs
- Please note card payments only
- Any questions? Ask the team and they will be delighted to help

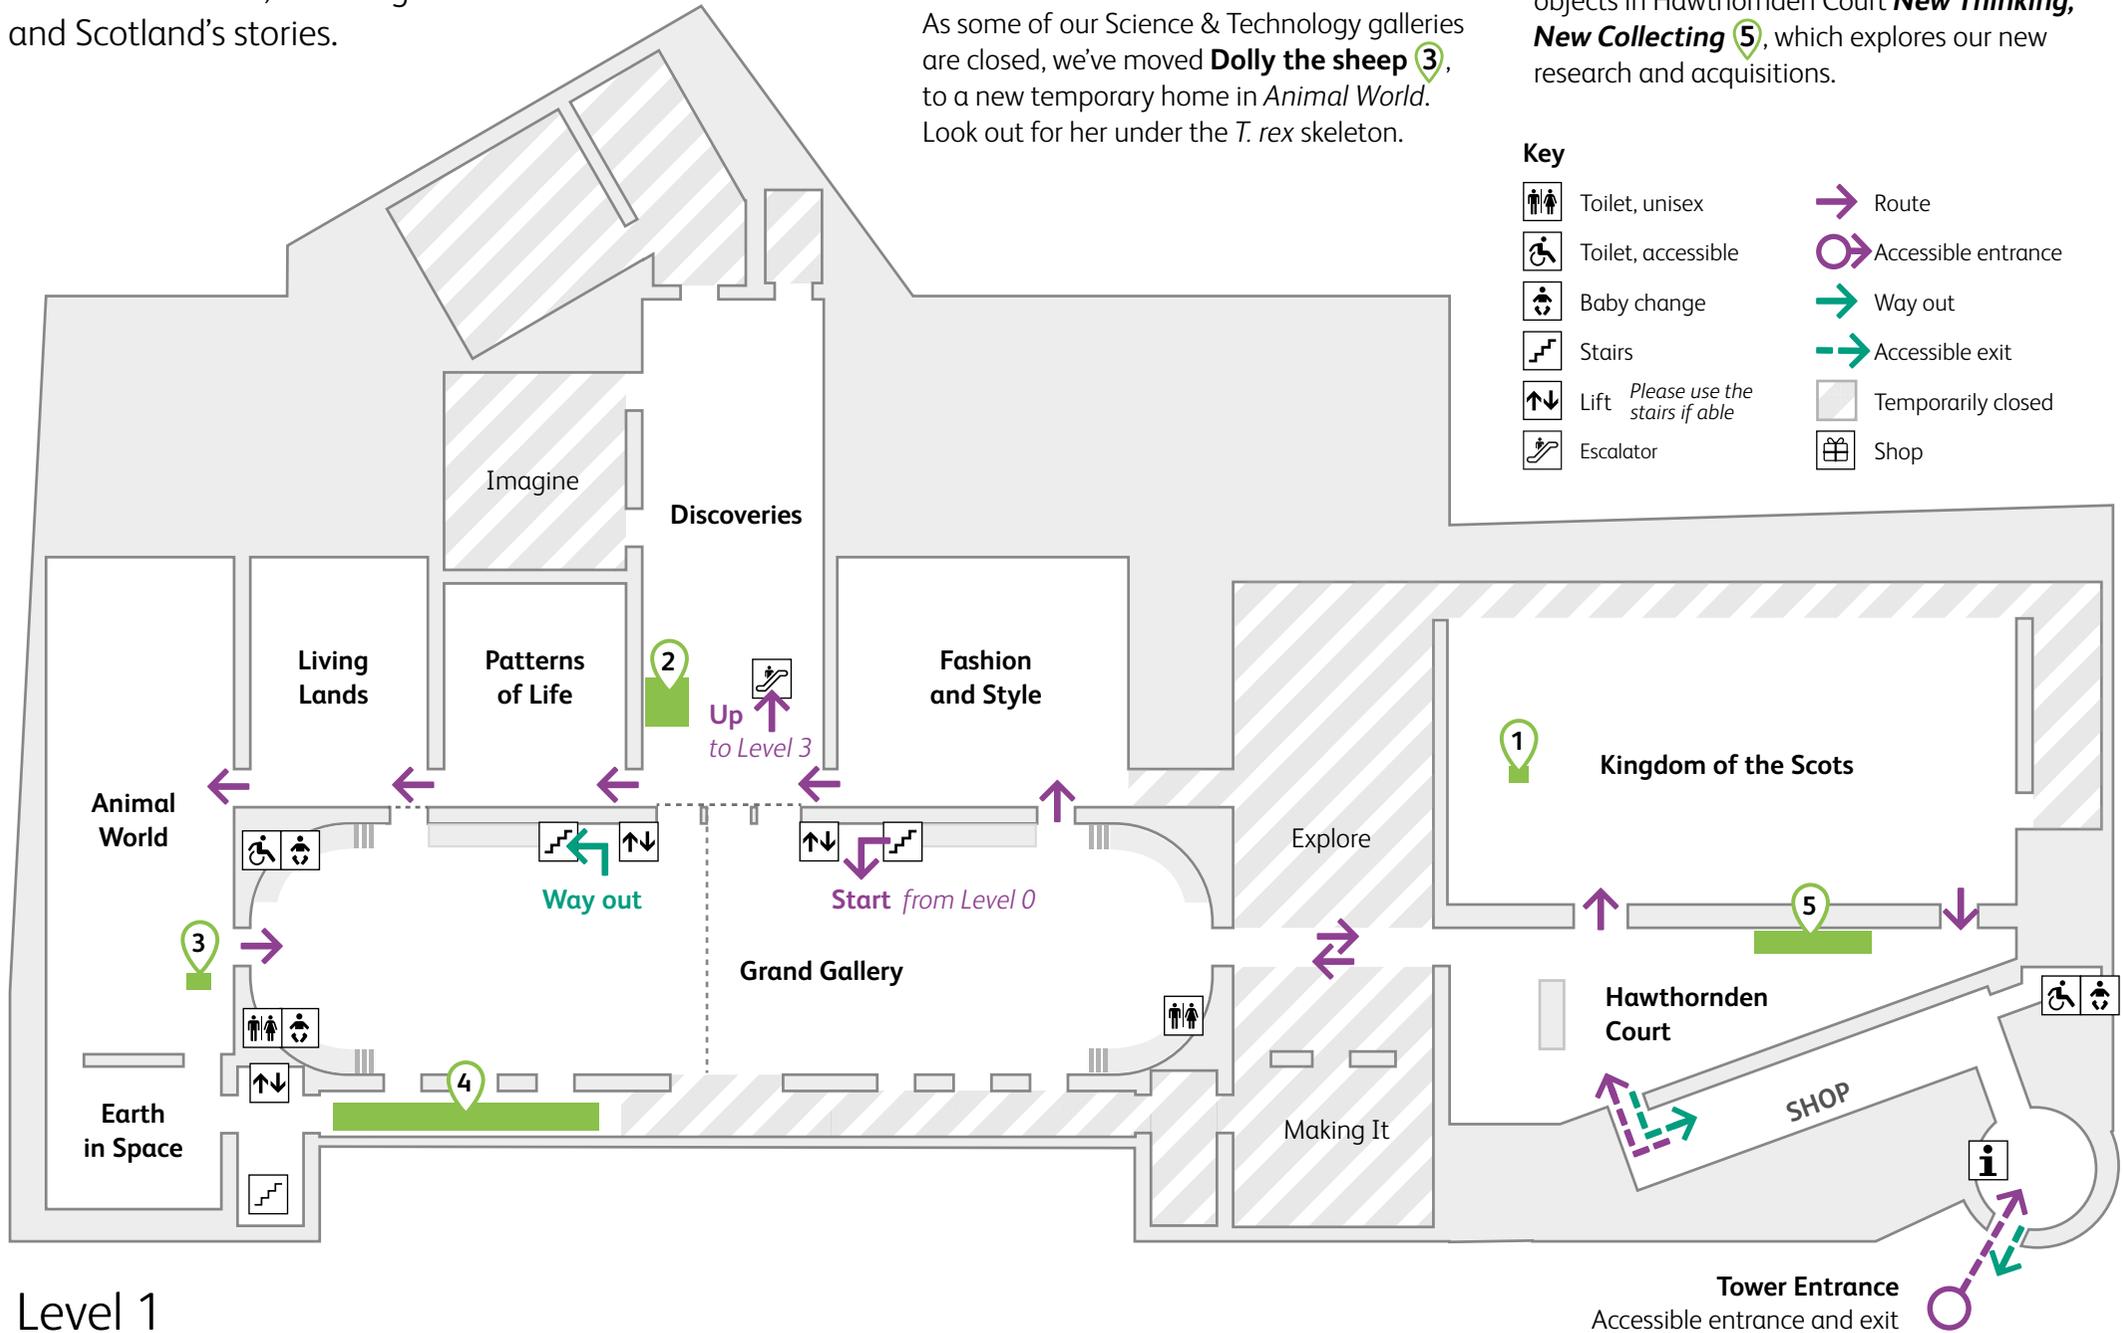

Explore our Level 1 galleries taking in high fashion, cultural wonders from around the world, amazing animals and Scotland's stories.

Catch up with old favourites from the Lewis chess pieces ① (Kingdom of the Scots) to the spectacular Millennium Clock ② (Discoveries).

As some of our Science & Technology galleries are closed, we've moved Dolly the sheep ③, to a new temporary home in Animal World. Look out for her under the T. rex skeleton.

New displays for you to discover include Scotland's Precious Seas ④, just off the Grand Gallery, and a new exhibit of Scottish objects in Hawthornden Court New Thinking, New Collecting ⑤, which explores our new research and acquisitions.

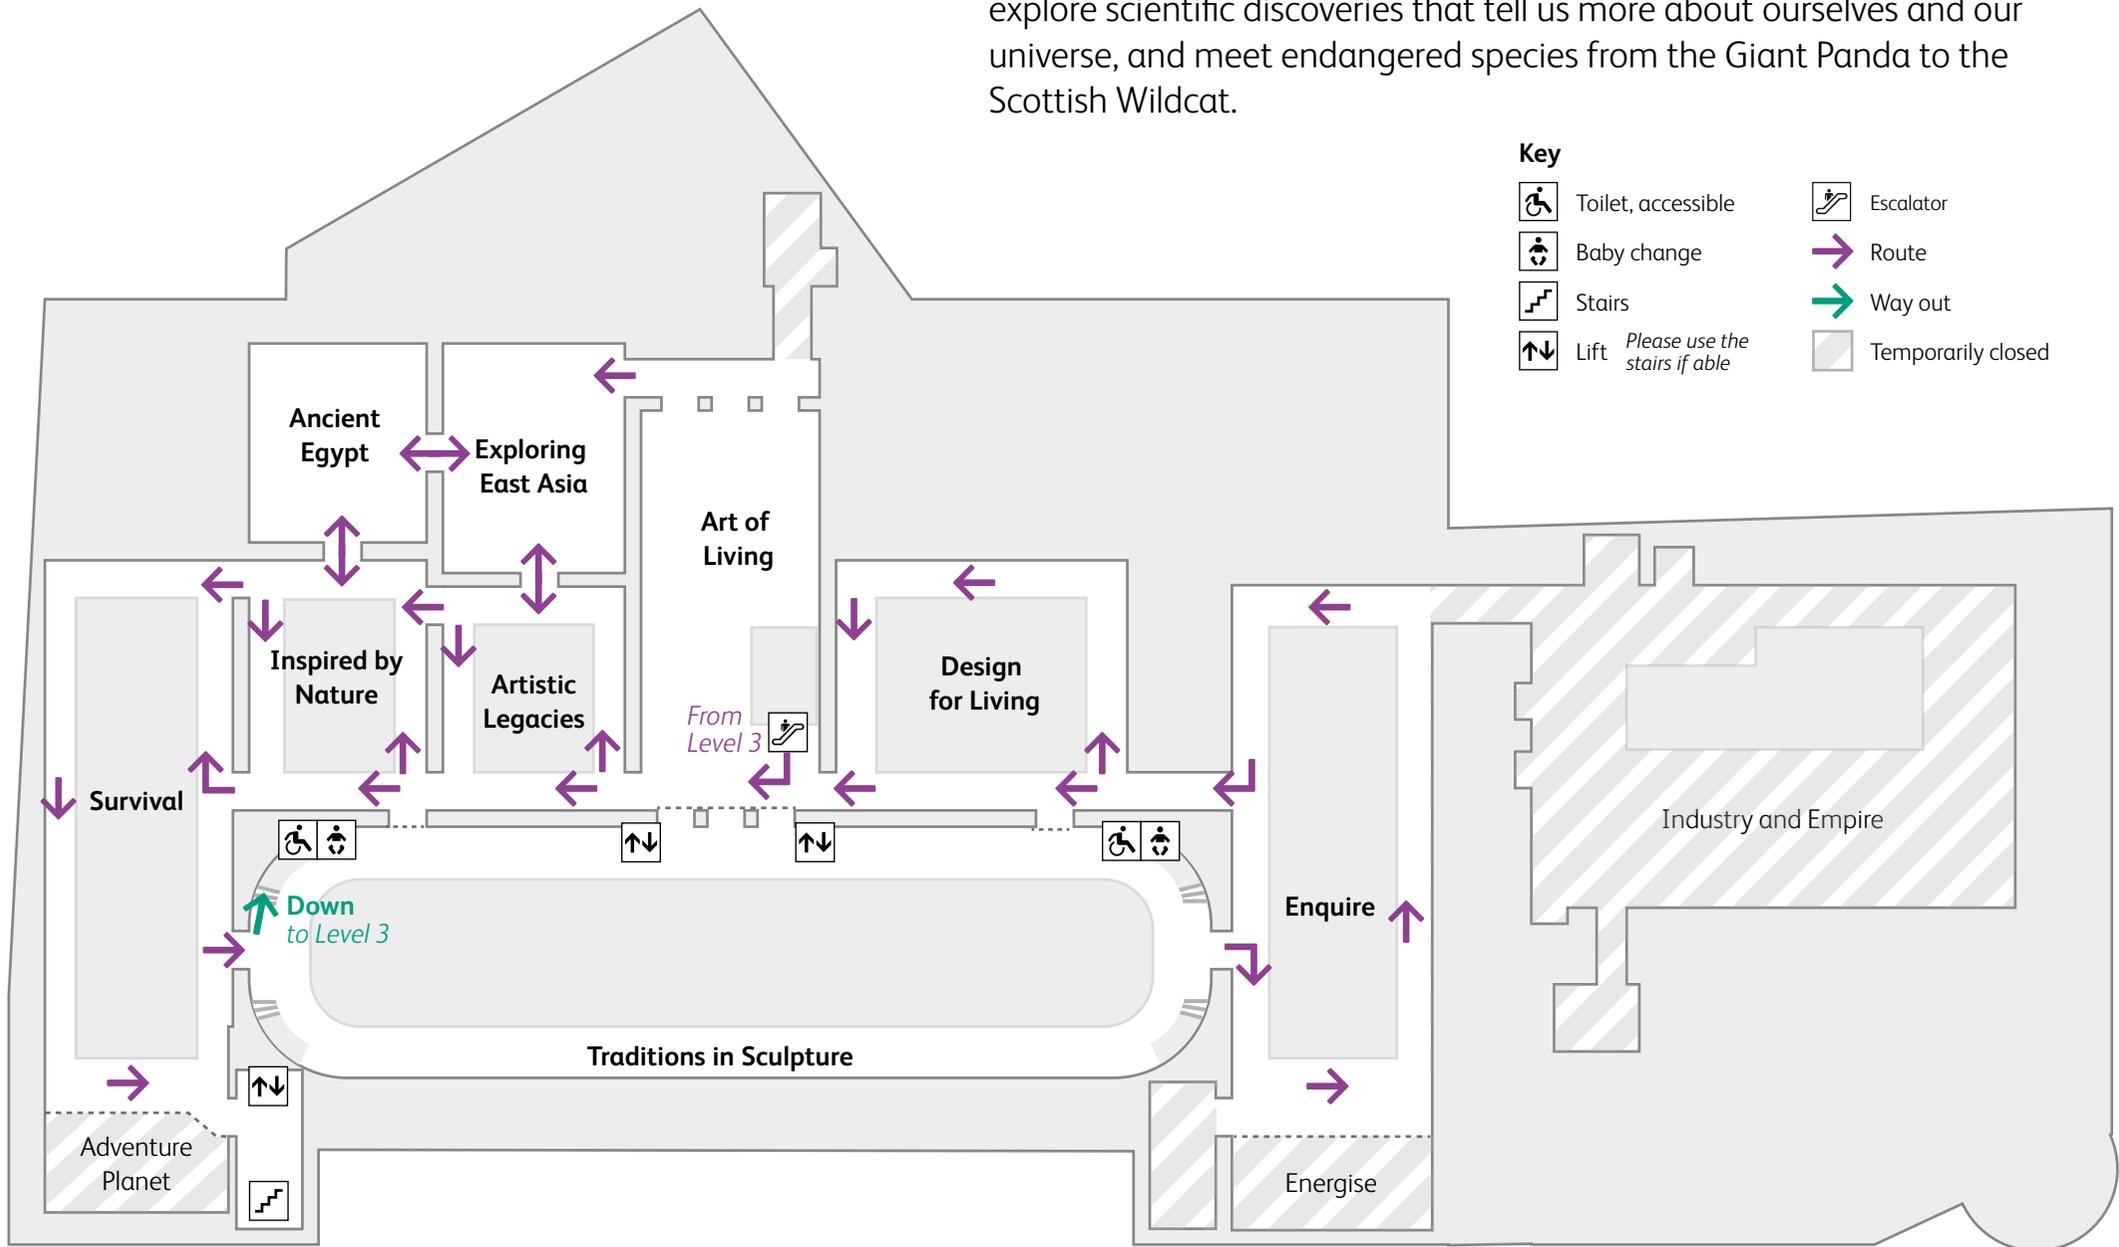

Make your way up to Level 3 for the Balcony Café and more galleries to explore. Highlights include cutting edge science, dazzling contemporary jewellery, our stunning Maori canoe, animal discoveries and an exploration of ceramics, from ancient pottery to front-line technology.
