

MUSEUM LATE

Anatomica

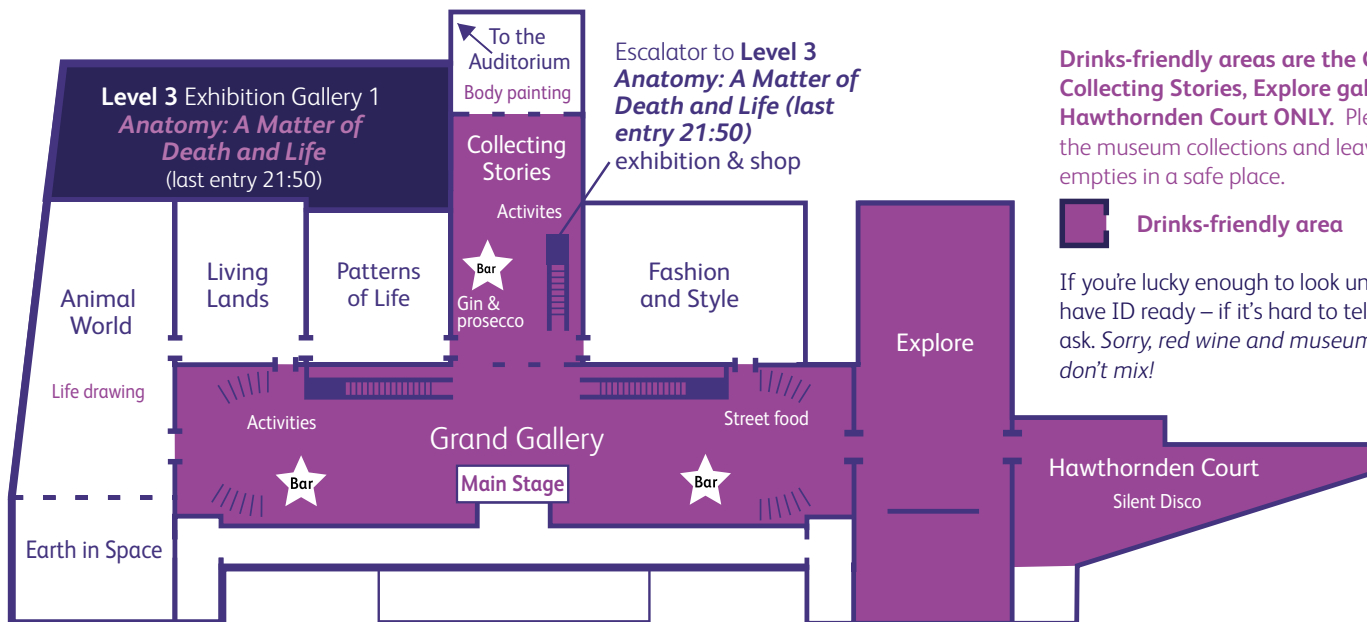

07/10/2022 19:30–22:30

#nmslates #anatomy @NtlMuseumsScot

Information

Cloakroom is available in the Entrance Hall Level 0 (£1.50). Coats and small bags only. Watch out for queues at the end of the night!

Toilets are available in the Entrance Hall Level 0, near the Auditorium on Level 1 and on Level 3

Food and Drink

Pop-up bars, Level 1

Last orders 22:15

Grand Gallery

Serving a selection of beers, wines and spirits.

Millennium Clock Bar

Gin and prosecco.

Street food and sweet treats

Grand Gallery

Beef burgers, beetroot burgers and mac 'n' cheese bites plus snacks and sweets.

Drinks-friendly areas are the Grand Gallery, Collecting Stories, Explore gallery and Hawthornden Court ONLY. Please respect the museum collections and leave your empties in a safe place.

Drinks-friendly area

If you're lucky enough to look under 25, please have ID ready – if it's hard to tell, we have to ask. Sorry, red wine and museum collections don't mix!

MUSEUM LATE

Anatomica

07/10/2022 19:30–22:30

Grand Gallery

Body Moves – main stage

Compere: Susan Morrison. DJ: B-Burg

- 20:15 Delighters Circus – have a go at hula-hooping to get your hips moving
- 21:10 House of Jack – watch hip-hop, waacking & breakdancing then pick up some street dance moves
- 21:55 Circus Finale – contortion, Cyr wheel and hula-hooping
- 22:10 Final chance to dance!

Anatomical Activities until 21:45

Join our museum experts for games and activities, from Pin the Eh? on the What? to the tool guessing game Surgery or DIY?

Temporary Tattoos until 21:45

Wear your heart (or skull, or brain) on your sleeve with an anatomically correct tattoo.

Main bars and street food stall

All activities are subject to change

Collecting Stories gallery

Gin and Prosecco bar

Anatomical Body Painting and more

19:30–21:45

Hands-on science with staff and students from University of Edinburgh's Anatomy department, including learning how to paint what lies beneath your skin.

Vitruvian Man Selfie Station

19:30–22:00

Perfect your pose at our Leonardo da Vinci inspired photo op.

Auditorium

Limited places, no glassware

Is Anatomy Dead?

20:00 (20 mins)

Leading anatomist Dr Jennifer Z Paxton turns anatomy's gruesome reputation on its head and provides a glimpse into its cutting-edge future.

Ambrose Parry: The Fact Behind the Fiction

20:45 (20 mins)

Marisa Haetzman, anaesthetist, medical historian and one half of the writing collaboration Ambrose Parry shares the fascinating facts that inspired the historical crime series.

Tales from the Crypt

21:20 (20 mins)

Join Cat Irving, Surgeon's Hall Human Remains Conservator and former mortician, to hear tales from her unusual career and her recent work preserving William Burke's skeleton.

Animal World gallery

Life Drawing until 22:00

Join Reconfigure for quick-fire life drawing sessions, no experience necessary!

Note: models will be partially clothed

Hawthornden Court

20:00–22:15

Silent Disco with Silent Knights

Blue channel: Modern pop hits

– all the best of this millennium so far!

Green channel: Silent disco classics

– going back, 90s, 80s and beyond...

Red channel: Anatomy anthems

– from Hips Don't Lie to Heart of Glass

Exhibition Gallery 1 Level 3

Anatomy: A Matter of Death and Life exhibition & shop

Free tonight Last entry 21:50, closes 22:20

Explore the history of anatomical study, from artistic explorations by Leonardo da Vinci to the Burke and Hare murders, then get set for Halloween in our themed shop. With book signings by Jennifer Z Paxton and Marisa Haetzman straight after their auditorium talks.

Drinks-friendly areas are the Grand Gallery, Collecting Stories, Explore gallery and Hawthornden Court ONLY. Please respect the museum collections and leave your empties in a safe place.