

Halò, I'm Lewis the Highland bull.
 I'm new to the farm and I can speak Gaelic!
 Do you want to learn some words in Gaelic
 (you say Gall-ick)? Explore the museum with me and discover some Scottish traditions on the way.

Let's begin at the rope twisters across from the Study Store

Design your own rope twister below!

Fun Fact! Each rope twister design has a different shape.

The farmer at my old farm used a seed horn for planting seeds of a certain vegetable.

Can you find the seed horn in the Land Gallery?

Complete the dot to dot to reveal which vegetable!

Can you spot the heart-shaped bannock spade?

There are three more around the museum – tick off each one you can find.

The Gaelic word for love is gaol (say g-eul).

Fancy doing a sword dance?
Can you find the Highland Games Poster? Try and copy the moves of the dancers in the poster.

The Gaelic word
for dancing is dansa (say dan-sa).

Have a go at a highland sword dance, but try not to touch the swords with your feet!

I love dancing and music!
Can you spot the fiddle
and bow used to play my favourite tunes?

Look closely at the bow,
can you see the animal hair? Which animal do you think it is from?

Horse

Pig

Cow

The Gaelic
word for wool
is clòimh (say cloy).

Can you spot the spinning wheel?

These are used to spin the fleece from the sheep to make wool.

Draw in the missing parts.

Can you remember some of the Gaelic
words we learned today?
Let's finish by saying goodbye –
mar sin leat (say mar-shin-lat).
